Justin McKay is the new head football coach at Algonquin Regional High School. He was previously the assistant coach at Wachusett Regional High School.

Lindsey Schievink has moved to Charlotte, NC.

BIRTHS: Melissa Studdard Battista and husband Brian announce the birth of Benjamin Matthew on 4/15/12.

Teresa Kuehhas works at St. Dominic High School in Oyster Bay, NY, which has established a partnership with the DNA Learning Center at Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory. She will work with the Center this summer to prepare to teach a molecular & genomic research course for the 2012–13 school year.

Liz Papp was promoted to publications and integrated media coordinator at AAA. She is responsible for reader online management and site analytics.

Kristyn Perron is a clinician for an adolescent residential program for The Bridge of Central MA.

Alex Popp III is an assistant men’s basketball coach at Middlebury College (VT).

’10

Krista Duchnowski is directing the Clinton High School Drama Club’s production of "Grease".

’11

Michael Dion is a research biologist at the U.S. Army Soldier Research Development and Engineering Center in Natick, working in the warfighter science technology and applied research division of the federal government. He is also pursuing a master of science degree at Northeastern University.

Jeffrey McNamara is a third generation firefighter for the town of Watertown.

BIRTHS: Margaret Wetherell Bohannon CCE’11 and husband Jon welcomed their first child, son Aidan Xavier, on 1/25/12.

Note: indicates that a wedding photo is available online at www.assumption.edu/alums/Alumni/weddings.html

When Dan Meunier ’09 arrived at Assumption, he had already been listed in the Guinness Book of World Records as the world’s youngest trained stage hypnotist (certified at age 13). A registered member of the National Guild of Hypnotists, and known as Dan Candell, he was fascinated by hypnotism after witnessing a local performance.

Formally trained by renowned hypnotist Jerry Valley in 2001, Candell established himself as a unique entertainer, performing at some 250 events annually, including "Hypnosis Gone Wild" shows at numerous colleges.

After earning a degree in psychology, Candell found his interests leaning toward therapeutic applications of hypnosis. He opened a practice in Marlboro and earned certifications in clinical and pediatric hypnotherapy. Today, he maintains a busy entertainment schedule, his private practice (which has moved to Northboro) and teaching self-hypnosis at Quinsigamond Community College.

Hypnotherapy was recognized as a valid medical procedure in 1958 by the American Medical Association and the American Psychological Association. In 1995, the National Institutes of Health began recommending hypnosis as a treatment for chronic pain.

In his practice, Candell helps his patients overcome pain and a variety of fears. He particularly enjoys helping children, having worked with them on issues such as bed-wetting, thumb-sucking and difficulties with reading. Many of his young clients have been diagnosed with ADD/ADHD and autism spectrum disorders. According to Candell, in order for hypnosis to work, people need to truly want the change they are seeking and be ready for it to work.

For more info, visit dancandell.com or dancandellhypnosis.com.

P. Michael Reidy G’74 had two plays performed by the Gabhar Theatre Company in Limerick, Ireland. The plays, titled "Night & Day" and "Bloody Mary," are part of a series of five short plays under the general title "Radio Noir."

John Boucher G’76 was recently named associate director of the ministry of catechesis and evangelization for the Diocese of Trenton, NJ. He and wife Therese Fenner Boucher G’83 published an ( pictured L-R) Fred DiFusco, Elizabeth Merritt ’05 and Dennis Leamy gathered in May to serve breakfast at Amos House, Rhode Island’s largest soup kitchen.

Ashley Daly married Robert Lessard on 8/20/11 in Durham, NC. Alumni in attendance were Claire Usher and Katherine Lovett. Ashley received a master’s degree in applied mathematics for the NC Department of Agriculture Standards Laboratory.

Kristin Jones was promoted to social insurance specialist/technical expert at the Social Security Administration last fall.

GRADUATE STUDIES

Chelsea Ennis earned a Master of Arts in Teaching degree with a concentration in elementary education from Sacred Heart University in January 2012.

BIRTHS: Kathleen Toscano Albane’s and husband Jon welcomed their first child, son Aidan Xavier, on 1/25/12.

Lindsey Schievink has moved to Charlotte, NC.

BIRTHS: Melissa Studdard Battista and husband Brian announce the birth of Benjamin Matthew on 4/15/12.

Justin McKay is the new head football coach at Algonquin Regional High School. He was previously the assistant coach at Wachusett Regional High School.

Lindsey Schievink has moved to Charlotte, NC.

BIRTHS: Melissa Studdard Battista and husband Brian announce the birth of Benjamin Matthew on 4/15/12.

Teresa Kuehhas works at St. Dominic High School in Oyster Bay, NY, which has established a partnership with the DNA Learning Center at Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory. She will work with the Center this summer to prepare to teach a molecular & genomic research course for the 2012–13 school year.

Liz Papp was promoted to publications and integrated media coordinator at AAA. She is responsible for reader online management and site analytics.

Kristyn Perron is a clinician for an adolescent residential program for The Bridge of Central MA.

Alex Popp III is an assistant men’s basketball coach at Middlebury College (VT).

’10

Krista Duchnowski is directing the Clinton High School Drama Club’s production of “Grease”.

’11

Michael Dion is a research biologist at the U.S. Army Soldier Research Development and Engineering Center in Natick, working in the warfighter science technology and applied research division of the federal government. He is also pursuing a master of science degree at Northeastern University.

Jeffrey McNamara is a third generation firefighter for the town of Watertown.

BIRTHS: Margaret Wetherell Bohannon CCE’11 and husband Jon welcomed their first child, son Aidan Xavier, on 1/25/12.

Note: indicates that a wedding photo is available online at www.assumption.edu/alums/Alumni/weddings.html

When Dan Meunier ’09 arrived at Assumption, he had already been listed in the Guinness Book of World Records as the world’s youngest trained stage hypnotist (certified at age 13). A registered member of the National Guild of Hypnotists, and known as Dan Candell, he was fascinated by hypnotism after witnessing a local performance.

Formally trained by renowned hypnotist Jerry Valley in 2001, Candell established himself as a unique entertainer, performing at some 250 events annually, including “Hypnosis Gone Wild” shows at numerous colleges.

After earning a degree in psychology, Candell found his interests leaning toward therapeutic applications of hypnosis. He opened a practice in Marlboro and earned certifications in clinical and pediatric hypnotherapy. Today, he maintains a busy entertainment schedule, his private practice (which has moved to Northboro) and teaching self-hypnosis at Quinsigamond Community College.

Hypnotherapy was recognized as a valid medical procedure in 1958 by the American Medical Association and the American Psychological Association. In 1995, the National Institutes of Health began recommending hypnosis as a treatment for chronic pain.

In his practice, Candell helps his patients overcome pain and a variety of fears. He particularly enjoys helping children, having worked with them on issues such as bed-wetting, thumb-sucking and difficulties with reading. Many of his young clients have been diagnosed with ADD/ADHD and autism spectrum disorders. According to Candell, in order for hypnosis to work, people need to truly want the change they are seeking and be ready for it to work.

For more info, visit dancandell.com or dancandellhypnosis.com.

Ashley Daly married Robert Lessard on 8/20/11 in Durham, NC. Alumni in attendance were Claire Usher and Katherine Lovett. Ashley received a master’s degree in applied mathematics from NC State University in 2010 and is a meteorologist for the NC Department of Agriculture Standards Laboratory.

Kristin Jones was promoted to social insurance specialist/technical expert at the Social Security Administration last fall.